

Dear Tigers,

It feels like a long time ago since we were altogether and I saw all your lovely faces. If I could click my fingers and make everything back to normal, I would! But as we all know, it is very important that we stay safe and follow what the Prime Minister tells us we need to do and we will be all back together when we can. 😊

It has been so lovely seeing all the amazing home learning work and activities you have been doing during this time. I've seen some amazing work from lots of you such as fabulous fractions, wonderful writing, super science and some stunning Spanish! (Did you see what I did there with the alliteration?) I have also seen you doing some really fun activities and spending some quality time with your families which is also so lovely to see. There's been some yummy baking, life-size cardboard robots, wind-up robots, football skills, colouring, scratch animations, gardening, crafts, games, music, trampolining and so much more (I'd be here all day if I listed it all!) I LOVE seeing all of the activities and work you do and it makes my day when I see your smiling faces.

Most of your adults have now downloaded the EvidenceMe app, so it would be lovely to see more of you posting on there. You can post pictures or videos of anything you are doing (it doesn't just need to be work!) All the teachers check this every day to see and respond to your posts. We can also answer any questions you or your adult have on there. It would be lovely to see lots of you post something on there every day and remember it doesn't have to be pages and pages of work every day – just post anything you have done that day. If you are having issues with it, just ask and we will try and help you – I have had feedback that it is easier and quicker than it looks!

I really enjoyed seeing your cooking activities a few week ago so put another food activity on this week's timetable all about food art! So I really can't wait to see all your food works of art – I might try this myself too!

I want to say a big well done to Jeffrey for being our star of the week last week as he has worked really hard with his home learning recently. All the teachers are picking someone from each class (like we would in school) and you receive a certificate over email. Jeffrey took a lovely smiley picture with his certificate last week and posted on EvidenceMe!

Lots of you have been asking what I have been doing with my time at home. I have been doing all my school work (Yes – we're all home schooling too!) and have been spending time with my family (including my cat, Gizmo). When the weather was nice and warm, I spent lots of time in the garden (well... until I sprained my ankle oops!) I have also loved doing all the cooking and baking I don't normally get time to do. I think this time has been wonderful for remembering the things we love doing or to find new skills or hobbies (that we can do at home). Perhaps if you have been trying a new hobby or learning a new skill (tying your shoelaces, riding a bike or even a spot of home cleaning – I'm sure your adults won't mind) then you can put any pictures or videos on EvidenceMe.

I know lots of you have been wondering how Miss Regan is too, and she is good and staying safe at home with her daughters. I speak to her regularly and see her on video chats – we are still making each other laugh virtually! She is also on EvidenceMe and can see all your lovely pictures and work and I know she enjoys seeing it too.

I cannot wait to see you in person but in the meantime please keep in touch on EvidenceMe with your pictures, videos and messages. It would be really nice if you could write a letter back to me about how you're feeling or what you have been doing. I really would love that.

*elbow bumps to you all*

Miss Hall 😊

Sending virtual hug...

Found this gem that I thought would make you smile – it's me when I was little!
